Sarah Johnson Kim Click Randy Dorsey

Sarah Johnson has been employed with detention for 5 years. She has her teaching licenses in Health Education (k-12) and is pursuing her Masters in Special Education. Randy Dorsey has been with detention for 2 years and is currently finishing his Masters in Special Education. Kim Click has just joined the education department and is currently pursuing her education degree. We are all highly dedicated to our jobs and believe that detained juveniles deserve equal education. In order to achieve this goal we try to keep in contact with the detainees' home school. The purpose of the school contact is to inform the school where the child is currently, receive any Individualized Education Plan (IEP) information (if applicable), the length of incarceration, and to acquire school work from their home school teachers if the stay is more than 10 days. Our goal is to keep the child on track with their school so that upon their release they are current with their classes.

Pre GED Services

Pre GED services are available to those students who have permission from their school district and Probation Officer, or has Dropped Out. We provide pre GED test assessments and administer the practice test. If students meet the many requirements for the State of Ohio, we can have a GED testing agency come to Detention to administer the test. Due to the remediation period, most students take their actual GED after they leave our facility.

Classroom Description

The Clermont County Juvenile Detention Center has two state of the art classrooms, equipped with Smart Boards and multi-media equipment needed to teach in the 21st century.

Students are in school for two and half hour blocks, and every other day students will receive an extra hour and a half of services. Students are in school a total of 15 hours a week. Science, Math, Reading, Social Studies, and Social/Emotional Learning are taught daily.

Virtual Learning Opportunities

Each classroom has 7 computers equipped to work with most virtual learning programs that are provided by the juvenile's local school district in which they reside. Each school has different stipulations for students to be placed on these virtual programs. Most schools will NOT place students on a virtual program unless they will be with us over 30 days. This is up to each school districts' discretion to place their students on virtual. Learning.

ECOT is a virtual high school that any guardian can enroll their child into.

Programs and Group

While students are at detention they have the opportunity to participate in several groups. On a weekly basis students can attend the Dare Program, YWCA Anger Management, Child Focus Group, CRC Group (Female) and Connections.

Positive Behavior Program

We try to encourage positive behavior with a reward system created by Randy and Sarah. This program is to help motivate our students to be productive and engage learners while in the classroom. Since the programs' induction, students strive to meet the expectations that have been set for them on a daily basis.

Library Services

Our formal Library at Detention is still under construction. However, Lori Osting, librarian from the Clermont County Public Library Outreach Program, has teamed up with our education program. She is helping us set up our library. She is also providing other library services such as book talks, library education, and she will be able to further help students find books that better meet their interests. These services will only enhance the literacy and library program here at detention. We are currently creating a working library that students can utilize during certain periods of the day. Residents do have access to a book cart that can be taken in to the living area. This gives residents access to literature virtually 24 hours a day. We are always accepting gently used books.
